WAR CLOUD HOVERS OVER JAPAN AND CHINA

. Nations Being Averted Rests With Mikade's Legation in Peking.

Peking, May 6 .- There remains one alim chance of war between China and Japan being averted. That rests with the Japanese legation here. The third secretary of the Japanese legation Wednesday visited Tsao Yulin, vice minister of foreign affairs, and intimated that the legation might still be able to prevent hostilities. He asked whether China's reply of May 1 to the Japanese demands was final. Tsao Yulin said that he had no instructions beyond that reply, but after the visit of the Japanese secretary had ended Tsao Yulin repaired to the winter palace, where he saw President Yuan Shi Kai. Leaving the winter palace, Tsao Yulin visited the Japanese legation.

In the meantime, while the Japanese ultimatum of Tuesday allowing China 48 hours in which to answer all demands is in effect, grim preparations

GALLAGHER BILL

Measure Amending Green Run-of-Mine Law Wins by Margin of Two Votes.

Special Columbus Correspondent. Columbus, May 6.—The Gallagher senate bill amending the Green runof-mine law, sponsored by organized miners a year ago, was virtually en acted into law by the house of representatives late Wednesday afternoon. The Gallasher measure permits miners and operators to make individual contracts outside the provisions of the Green statute, which compelled all miners' wage contracts to be made on the run-of-mine basis. The measure was defeated by the house on its first consideration, April 15, then lacking nine votes. Its passage Wednesday was by a margin of two votes. Eastern Chio operators say it will help to settle the mine strike in that part of the

New Liquor License Bill. The second McDermott bill, representing the administration's solution of the liquor license problem, appeared in the senate Wednesday afternoon It divides the state into 34 districts for the issuance of licenses and provides that for each district two license dispensers shall be named by the county clerks, recorders and chairmen county commissioners within the district. The administration will try to see this bill through but it is on One Slim Chance of Rupture Between Two posed by Democrats and Hamilton county Republicans.
